

I urge the FCC to slow down the process of altering the regulation of media concentration. This is a vital issue in a democracy. We need full, energetic public debate, not haste and a shameful lack of accountability.